About ANMF-YTS-Sahayeta Blanket Drive

On Saturday April 25, 2015, Nepal was hit by a magnitude-7.8 quake near the capital of Kathmandu flattening homes, buildings and temples, causing widespread damage across the region, killing more than 8,000 people and injuring many others. The quake was the strongest in the region in more than 80 years. Almost a year and passed, and yet Political turmoil along with the unofficial blockade has made it difficult for the victims to receive much needed aid.

On Jan 15th, 2016, ANMF joined hands with Sahayeta.org and Youth Thinkers Society (YTS) to help distribute high quality blankets to 500 residents of Budhakhani, Sitkha and Shreechaur of Kavrepalanchowk, Ramechhap and Okhlandhunga district respectively. The residents are from diverse community and are still living in tents and makeshift shelters. Freezing temperatures and scarcity of basic needs such as electricity, gas and reliable shelters has made it very difficult for them to survive and many have already fallen sick. According to the survey done by the local YTS volunteers, they barely have any money to eat, let alone buy reliable blankets.
